

Rayned Copper Silver Ionization System

Rayned Copper-silver ionization is to prevent the distribution of Legionella bacteria, . The main source of Legionella distribution is the warm water system. Circumstances in warm water systems are ideal for Legionella bacteria to grow and multiply. Contagion mainly takes place through shower steam. Copper-silver ionization can sufficiently kill Legionella bacteria and can actively deactivate Legionella, as well.

